

Anyar Makuol Day

HAPPY FATHERS' DAY

I vividly recall my father was an ambitious man who always has purpose for his family. He was a good man who supported his family even when he had no money. He always encouraged by saying 'Obstacles are the cost of greatness'. My father was the quality father who can see goals, dreams and aspirations he sets not only for himself but for his family also.

My role model when I came to Nakuru is Raila Amollo Odinga who always fights for justice and tribal rivalries. He quoted that every next level of life will demand a different place between your comfort zone and your dream is where life takes place.

My father was like a backbone to me:

Where the bone supports me ---

Nerve inspires me ---

Blood keeps me alive ---
