

FATHER'S DAY

My father was a tall dark man. He was a herdsman. He was a gargantuan and valiant who believe in hardwork and prayers. Though he was not educated, he was caring and loving by making sure he had provide us with food. I vividly recall that auspicious day he gave me a cattle as a present. Hitherto I remember the day things turn awry when our cattle were raided and poverty covered us.

My model is a footballer who come from a humble background here in Africa in Senegal. He also believe in hardwork. He is my model besides academics because he gives me hope that there is another chance in life.

He is humble, caring and hardworking man. Sadio Mane is really working harder and harder to nature his talent. I am also trying mine.

- A god father should be loving, caring.
- A god father should be an example to his children.
